Period for Reply -- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 20 May 2008.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Art Unit: 3617

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-11, 13-18, 21, 25-31, 34-39, 49, 51, 54, 55, 58-68, and 70 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Chiles et al. Chiles et al disclose the claimed structure including a system with a generally upright deflector body 40 with a tilt angle relative to vertical; and at least one bridle connected to a seismic cable 26, the bridle including an upper segment secured to an upper connection point on the deflector body, and a lower segment coupled to a lower connection point on the deflector body, wherein the upper segment, lower segment and deflector body define a geometry there between; and at least one actuator 82 for adjusting the geometry to control the tilt angle of the deflector body. Note that Chiles et al also disclose an additional actuator 118, a weight 88, pulley and a remote control. Not also that Chiles et al specifically discloses a pair of actuators that can be operated independently (note controls for rudders 110,108 and column 6, lines 4-16).

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 12 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chiles et al in view of Lasky et al. Not disclosed by Chiles et al is a separate buoyancy. Lasky et al disclose a buoyancy element 62. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the device of Chiles et al with a buoyancy element as taught by Lasky et al for improved deflector control. The combination combines known features to achieve predictable results.

5. Claims 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chiles et al in view of Ambs. Not clearly disclosed by Chiles et al is a steamer or lead in. Ambs discloses a steamer and lead in (note column 4, lines 7-19). It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the device of Chiles et al with a steamer or lead in as taught by Ambs for improved deflector control. The combination combines known features to achieve predictable results.

6. Claims 22, 23, 32, 33, and 56 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chiles et al in view of Vatne et al. Not disclosed by Chiles et al is a separate floatation device. Vatne et al disclose a floatation device 1. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the device of Chiles et al with a floatation device as taught by Vatne et al for improved deflector control. The combination combines known features to achieve predictable results.

7. Applicant's arguments filed 5/20/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant alleges that Chiles et al do not disclose independent actuators. However, Chiles et al clearly disclose actuators that can be independently operated, note controls for rudders 110,108 and column 6, lines 4-16, for example.

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Stephen Avila whose telephone number is 571-272-6678. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Friday from 8 AM to 530 PM (EST).

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Samuel J. Morano can be reached on 571-272-6684. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
